

Tell Us Your Stories and Feedback about Bark!

Helping our children navigate social media and other digital areas of their lives is challenging for parents.

Bark is a break-through tool that allows you the chance to guide your children by monitoring the many aspects of their online life without having to scroll through many apps on their phone.

Helping families in our community matters to us, so learning your real-world examples helps us better communicate to other parents who could benefit from Bark.

Please share your Bark experiences using the brief questions below.

The Bark free trial made it easier to help my child navigate online areas of their life.
